| DISCIPLINE GRID | 27 |

Dear Parents,

Please read this booklet carefully with your child, as all teachers will also be reading it with their classes.

One of the most important responsibilities a student has in school is good behavior. Good behavior allows every child to have a good learning environment.

A discipline code explains the rules of the school, the kind of behavior that is expected of students and the consequences if a child breaks those rules.

Students shall be present within the boundaries of the school campus for the entirety of every regularly scheduled school day on the official school calendar, unless formally excused as a result of administrative action, or because of a notified accident, sickness or emergency.

An entire school day is from 07:15 a.m. until 01:45 p.m. from Sunday to Thursday for primary and 07:15 am -11:15 am for Kindergarten unless other official advice is provided.

During every scheduled school day, students shall also be present for the entirety of every class, activity, or rest break for which their study program is timetabled, unless formally excused and provided with a written pass as a result of administrative action, or because of an accident, sickness or emergency.

Assemblies

Classes are to assemble quickly and quietly at a designated place when the first signal is given. They are to observe silence and remain standing while waiting for the second signal.

Pupils must stand at attention and must sing the National Anthem and school song.

Pupils are to remain silent and to listen attentively to the announcements.

Classes can leave the assembly area only after the instruction is given and they should be dismissed, class by class, in a quiet and orderly manner.

Campus Boundaries

Minimum Attendance: 90% Attendance Rule

To be considered for progression from one year to the next, students must be in attendance for 90% of the total number of school days in any course, irrespective of any passing grades accumulated or the reasons for absence. The class attendance record will be the determinant of a student's attendance for calculating this factor. Each student's attendance record will be printed on the term Reports.

Absence from School or Class

If parents/guardians find it necessary to temporarily remove students from whole or part days of normal attendance for an emergency, they must speak with or write to the Principal to explain the need and complete the necessary arrangements.

Teachers are not required to provide special or extra tutoring for students who are absent from school because of late registration, temporary leave, or early withdrawal. Students are expected to complete all assessments missed while absent from the School. In cases of extended illness or injury, supported by a doctor's certificate, the School will provide academic support where possible, and may provide an amended assessment program if practical. Any modification to assessment programs will be at the discretion of the Principal in consultation with the relevant Head of Department(s).

Explained Absence from School

Absence from School is formally explained only when confirmed in writing by parents or legal guardians, and the School has received this written communication.

Each student must bring a note explaining the absence to the respective Form Teacher immediately upon return to school, and the fact will be recorded.

Homework for Absent Students

For short absences

Students planning an absence for one or two days because of illness or emergency are advised to contact their teachers regarding homework assignments set in their absence.

It is entirely the responsibility of absent students to obtain information about and complete any assignments or exercises set for their subjects during a short absence. For lengthier absences

If the absence is anticipated to be three days or longer, parents may contact the concerned Form teacher for homework assignments, stipulating the nature and anticipated length of the absence.

For extended absences

The School is under no obligation to provide special tuition or homework for long student absences because of illness or emergency. However, circumstances may warrant a special learning and assessment program being devised and parents should contact the Coordinator office to discuss the matter. Students should note that the amendment of programs is not always possible or practical and any modifications to any programs must have the approval of the Principal.

"Excessive" Unexplained Absences and Lateness

The School actively discourages unexplained absences and lateness. Students who breach the School's attendance and punctuality rules on three or more occasions will be subjected to a process of "stepping up" of sanctions for each subsequent breach. All sanctions will be at the discretion of the Discipline Committee, and where necessary, in consultation with the Principal.

- Lunch Detention under supervision by the Discipline Committee (Three times late to School or class in a calendar month).
- A letter will be sent to the student's parents from the Discipline Committee that includes notification of dates/times of unexplained absence/lateness and the consequences for not meeting the requirements of the "90% Rule".
- In-school detention where the student is withdrawn from normal classes and School activities for a period of one or more day(s). The student will be required to complete school work under the supervision of the Coordinator or their representative. An interview with parents will also be requested.
- Withdrawal of privileges that may include prohibition from co-curricular activities & sporting events.
- Suspension from the School for a period of time determined by the Principal.
- Refusal by the School to award the student academic grades for all subjects.

A student who has been absent from school without written notification to Management, for a period exceeding two months, will be automatically withdrawn from school, without any compensation, documentation, recommendation or school record.

Dishonesty

Types of Dishonesty

The ethos of the School includes important references to openness and honesty, and it is the intent of the School to encourage and reward all displays of these virtues.

It is extremely difficult for the School to operate effectively as a place of learning and as a community if students choose to act dishonestly. Acts of dishonesty include academic dishonesty; the forgery of documents and signatures; and the uttering of untruthful or misleading statements.

Academic Dishonesty

Academic dishonesty is "submitting for grading any academic assignment, exercise, homework, answer, test, or examination which is purported to be original work when in fact all or part is either secretly copied from another source, or has been secretly produced by another person. This includes any work copied from that produced by another author, writer, or student, or derived from unauthorized materials used in an examination or test, and where the act of copying is not acknowledged within the work or reported to the teacher who will grade the work."

Any other student who knowingly assists in an act of academic dishonesty, for example by secretly providing their own work to be copied or by secretly completing the work themselves, will also be regarded as committing an act of academic dishonesty.

A first offence act of academic dishonesty is either a Level 1 or Level 2 offence as determined by the School. Subsequent offences will be designated at a higher level. Any work found to be the result of academic dishonesty will not be marked, and work of the provider will also not be marked if the provider is a student of the School.

Forgery of Documents and Signatures

Forgery of signatures and/or documents is "submitting any document or signature to the School as original, or submitting any document or signature purported to originate from the School, when all or part of the document or an appended signature has been secretly falsified, altered, or copied with intent to mislead."

Any other student who knowingly assists in an act of forgery, for example by secretly providing a false signature or document on behalf of another person, will also be regarded as equally guilty.

A first offence act of forgery is either a Level 1 or Level 2 offence as determined by the School. Subsequent offences will be designated at a higher level.

Uttering Untruthful or Misleading Statements

Uttering untruthful or misleading statements is "speaking, writing, or communicating as a fact something which is known to be untrue." This includes all acts which deliberately conceal or obscure the truth.

Any other student, who knowingly assists in an act of untruthfulness, for example by claiming that something is true when it is secretly known to be untrue, will also be regarded as equally guilty.

A first offence act of untruthfulness is either a Level 1 or Level 2 offence as determined by the School. Subsequent offences will be designated at a higher level.

Personal Appearance and School Uniform

General

We want our students to take pride in their personal appearance, and to be proud to wear the School's uniform. We actively discourage untidy, dirty, and unusual personal appearance; and incorrect wearing of the School's daily, formal, and sporting uniforms.

The School reserves the right to be the sole arbiter of the appropriateness or otherwise of the personal appearance and School uniform compliance of students.

First time offences of rules about personal appearance and School uniform will be Level 1 offences. Subsequent offences may be designated at a higher level.

The school reserves the right to determine what is appropriate or inappropriate "out of uniform" dress.

The School regards any act of the theft as extremely serious. As well, any other student who directly or indirectly assists in an act of the THEFT, for example by concealing or obscuring the act, or by receiving stolen property, will also be regarded as equally guilty.

The School reserves the absolute right to search students, their personal possessions, and their lockers at any time without warning or permission. If materials belonging to someone else are found in the possession of a student, the School may regard it as sufficient proof of the HRT.

Unauthorized entry into, or modification of, or procurement of any electronic data will be regarded as the theft.
