A DIVE INTO UNSDGs

The students of Grade 1 had the opportunity to explore the 17 goals of UNSDG that aim to promote sustainable development goals worldwide. Students were engaged in interactive activities to learn about UNSDGs. They were introduced to the different sustainable goals and were enlightened with different activities. First activity focused on UNSDG Goal 14- 'Life Below Water', demonstrating the harmful impact of pollution on marine life using fish cutouts, by placing them in clean and polluted water, students understood the importance of taking care of oceans with the help of videos that portrayed real life situation of the negative impact of polluted water on marine animals. Second activity focused on UNSDG Goal 3- 'Good Health and Well Being' demonstrated the significance of a balanced diet. They classified diverse types of food and expressed their creativity through coloring and pasting them onto chart paper. Both activities were executed successfully, and the lessons learned will inspire students to prioritize a healthy lifestyle and care for the environment.

The United Nations' Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) provide a framework for individuals and organizations to take action towards creating a sustainable future for all. These goals are universal and apply to all countries and communities around the world. As such, schools have an important role to play in promoting the SDGs and encouraging their students to become responsible global citizens.

Students and teachers of grade 2 have implemented several activities that align with various SDGs. These activities include Global Goal 14 – Life below Water and Global Goal 6 – Clean Water and Sanitation.

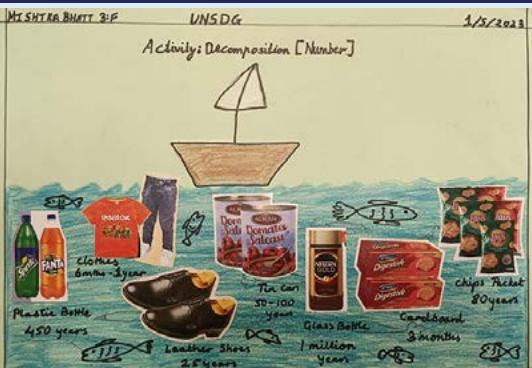

Goal 14 of the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (UNSDGs) aims to "Conserve and sustainably use the oceans, seas, and marine resources for sustainable development." This goal recognizes the critical role that oceans and marine resources play in supporting life on Earth, as well as their potential for economic growth, food security, and poverty reduction. On the other hand, Goal 6 of the UNSDGs aims to "Ensure availability and sustainable management of water and sanitation for all." This goal recognizes the importance of clean water and sanitation for human health, environmental sustainability, and economic development.

To implement the knowledge of these goals students were encouraged to do different activities. They made a model of a fish that showed how marine life is harmed due to the polluted seawater. Also, they made a model of a cloud that indicated the different ways in which water can be conserved and used wisely. The students enjoyed both the activities and did it with a lot of zeal and enthusiasm.

By promoting these SDGs, the school is helping to create a more sustainable and equitable future for all.

GRADE 3 - UNSDG

"We only have one planet. We have nowhere else to go. If we use our creative powers properly, we don't need anywhere else. If we take care of it, and each other, everything we need is right here."

Our school had taken an effort to emphasize the relevance of sustainable development goals by celebrating UN SDG week. The aim behind the UN SDG week was not merely to see the creative aspect but also to trigger the thought process of the students and sensitize them towards the burning & serious issues related to nature. Array of creative events were organized under different subjects to sensitize the students.

Grade 3 students actively participated in the rubbish bin sorting activity. The students were oriented about waste management through hands-on activity of segregation of wastes into biodegradable and non - biodegradable. Responsible consumption refers to consuming goods and services in a way that reduces the negative impact on the environment. Recycling and sorting activity is one of the most popular and effective ways to teach students about recycling. The activity aimed to educate students about the importance of recycling and how it can help in preserving the environment.

A sustainable use of our ecosystem and preserving environment is not a cause. It is the key to our own survival. Young Monarchians of Grade 3 sorted different objects into man - made and natural items. They acquired the knowledge, and use of both natural and man - made things and the importance of natural items.

The next activity on the series was Decomposition (numbers), where students collected pictures of the items or things which results in water pollution. Students acquired knowledge about the duration of decomposition of certain things underwater. Students were able to know the importance of saving life underwater through this activity.

These activities motivated them to take pledge to work towards progressing for sustainable future initiatives and make our earth a better place to live in.
